Derby County versus Nottingham Forest called off due to snow

- Game postponed on spectator safety grounds
- 'The pitch is fine and inside the stadium is safe and dry'

Derby County's Championship match with their local rivals Nottingham Forest has been postponed on safety grounds, the club have confirmed.

The match was due to kick off at 12.15pm on Sunday but heavy snow has left roads and pavements around the ground dangerous, and the club have called off the fixture after discussions with the match officials, police, the Football League and Forest.

The Derby chief executive, Tom Glick, told the club's website: "The pitch is fine and inside the stadium is safe and dry. However, the roads throughout the city and county are unsafe. This is the biggest match of the year for our supporters and we wouldn't want anyone to miss it because they had difficulty getting to Pride Park Stadium."

The game was due to go ahead less than 24 hours after it was announced that the Nottingham Forest owner, Nigel Doughty, had been found dead at his home in Lincolnshire.
